

FDP Overview

The online FDP on Heutagogy: ‘Pedagogy training to faculty especially with Regard to addressing the needs of Weak Students’ is a method of teaching by allowing the students to discover for themselves. It aims to describe self-learning independent of formal teaching. It’s a 5 Days program to enhance a teaching profession to encourage their weak students to find their own problems and seek out areas of uncertainty and complexity in the subjects they study. Teachers will further help them by providing context to students' learning and creating opportunities for them to explore the subjects fully.
