Due permission for the Applied Psychology programme under Dibrugarh University, was accorded by the State Government of Assam from that very academic session.

The CSBS, DU, has recently been re-named as Centre for Studies in Applied Psychology (CSAP), w.e.f., the academic session 2019-20. This Centre presently provides the MA (Applied Psychology) Programme which has been designed in modular form. If a student desires to leave the MA Programme after the first year (i.e., on successful completion of the 1st and 2nd Semesters) they are to be considered as qualified for the Diploma in Applied Psychology (DAP) Programme. If a student desires to pursue the 2nd year of the Programme and complete the remaining two (3rd and 4th) semesters, cumulatively with the first two semesters, they are eligible to be considered for the Master's Degree in Applied Psychology.

Moreover, from the academic session 2019-20, the CSAP, DU has also introduced the Post Graduate Diploma in Counselling Psychology (PGDCP) Programme in the Centre, after due approval of the appropriate academic and administrative authorities. The Syllabi of all the PG Programmes of the Centre have been prepared as per the New Dibrugarh University Regulations for the Post Graduate Programmes in Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) approved by the Academic Council of Dibrugarh University in its Meeting held in November 2018.

Majority of the students have already been placed as mental health professionals across India. Students have also been selected for pursuing the (RCI-recognized) M. Phil Programme in Clinical Psychology at the national level, besides pursuing Ph.D research at different Central Universities of the country. The Centre also showcases a wide diversity in its students as it has been able to attract students from the different states of India as well as from outside the country.

With effect from the academic session 2019-20, the Centre for Studies in Applied Psychology (CSAP), Dibrugarh University, has introduced the Post Graduate Diploma in Counselling Psychology (PGDCP) Programme in the Centre. The PGDCP has been designed keeping in mind the demand for skilled and competent Counsellors in Secondary schools, as psycho-social workers in the health sector, social organizations like NGOs and other Government organizations and in other institutions in society.

The Objective of the Post Graduate Diploma in Counselling (PGDCP) Programme is to create a force of skilled personnel having advanced knowledge and skills of counselling society with sensitivity and responsible social awareness. The Courses in the Programme are designed to emphasize an experiential style of learning. Central to counselling skills practice, is the idea that to understand the experience of the other, one has to first understand 'the Self'. The Programme is structured in a matter so as to ensure that students learn not only from what is taught, but also by actively engaging in the various exercises including self- exploration. Much of the learning is held in small groups, and there will be an emphasis on the learner (wherever appropriate), sharing and reflecting on their own experiences. As the Post Graduate Diploma in Counselling Programme (PGDCP) is an advanced skills programme, besides being a value-addition programme for the adult learner, as part of the learning experiences, students are expected to apply and integrate their learning experiences to their existing place of work (as psycho-social health workers) in their period of internship as a part of the curricular requirements, during which they will be mentored and/or supervised by the Faculty members of the Centre.
